EDWARDS NAMED IN ROBERTSON CASE

FILE MOTION TO QUASH OKMULGEE JURY INDICTMENT

Attorneys File Motion to Throw Out Action of
Grand Jury

NO DATES SET

Twelve Points Included in
Information Filed by Attorneys.

A motion to set aside and quash the indictment returned against Governor J. B. A. Robertson in the case of "indictment for bribery" returned by the Okmulgee county grand jury March 21, was filed in district court of Pontotoc county here late yesterday afternoon by Robertson's attorneys.

Twelve points were set out in the motion filed here yesterday as reasons for Robertson's contention in quashing the indictment.

Twelve Points Stated.

Following are the twelve points in the motion:

- 1.—That said indictment was not found, endorsed, presented or filed as prescribed by the statute of the state.
- 2.—That names of said witnesses endorsed upon said indictment are not the witnesses examined before the grand jury and upon whose testimony the indictment was found.
- 3.—That the indictment was not found by competent authority and that no legal or competent evidence was placed before the grand jury that returned the said indictment and that this action was a violation of the constitutional rights of the defendant and contrary to law.
- 4.—The defendant alleges that the grand jury which returned the indictment received incompetent, irrelevant hearsay and secondary evidence in order to receive any testimony which would authorize them to return the said indictment.
- 5.—That the foreman of the jury and the said grand jury were not sworn in by law and that said grand jury was not authorized by law to find and return the indictment.
- 6.—The defendant alleges that parties other than witnesses and prosecuting attorney aided and directed the grand jury.
- 7.—That the indictment was not voted upon separately but collectively with other indictments against other parties.
- 8.—That the records do not show any indictment in open court and that the grand jury was in the courtroom while the motion was being filed.
- 9.—The defendant further alleges that the indictment was purported to have been returned on March 21, but was not filed in the presence of the jury as provided by law.
- 10.—That the indictment was not endorsed as a true bill and signed by the foreman of the jury.
- 11.—That the grand jury as not legal as no clerk was appointed from their number and no minutes kept.
- 12.—That witnesses were not sworn in by the foreman of the jury.

Information Vague

The motion was signed by five attorneys of the governor, L. O. Lytle, R. B. Thompson, Joe Eaton, J. D. Lydick and George Rittenhouse.

L. E. Franklin, Pontotoc county clerk, was not informed as to when the motion was to be heard or who would sit in the hearing. The motion to quash the indictment was received through the mails late Monday afternoon.

Franklin has received no further information on the change of venue proceedings, which brought the trial of Governor J. B. A. Robertson, charged with "bribery," to Ada. Franklin has not been informed officially when the trial would be held or who would sit in the hearing.

Attorneys for Governor Robertson, their attaches, court officials of Okmulgee county, their attaches, state authorities and others connected with the trial of Governor J. B. A. Robertson, charged with accepting a bribe, were expected to arrive in this city on the evening Frisco from Okmulgee, according to reports from reliable sources.

Mussolini Says Rumor False

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, Nov. 21.—Pertina, political writer of Echo De Paris, in an article on the Near East peace conference, relates that just as he was leaving the opening session a man stopped him saying:

"I'm Mussolini. You said I was surrounded at Territet by black shirted fascists. Let me tell you, sir, we wear white shirts and we have plenty of them."

Pertina asserts that in reply to this he was only able to express hopes that the Italian premier might long be able to "preserve the present emaciated hue of his shirts."

COUPLE ATTACKED BY NEGRO SLAYER

Man Slain and Companion
Assaulted by Black
Assailant.

(By the Associated Press)

WACO, Texas, Nov. 21.—Grady Skipton, 19, was shot and killed and a young woman companion attacked last night near Lever's Leap on the Bosque river, three miles north of Waco. The couple was riding in an automobile. Skipton was shot in the neck with a shotgun at close range. The young woman, who physicians say was "treated roughly" is in a hospital where doctors refuse to permit her to be interviewed early today.

Officers said they were working in the dark until the woman recovered sufficiently to be questioned. According to reports to the police the attack was made by a negro, who after robbing Skipton, shot him and threw his body over a 20-foot cliff. The negro then dragged the girl into the brush where he kept her three hours, and then threw her over the cliff. The tragedy occurred about 9 o'clock last night and the girl made her way home about 3 o'clock this morning. The negro escaped in Skipton's car, heading towards Dallas, officers said.

Excitement is running high here. The crime corresponds in detail to the killing of Sid Belton, prominent young man, and the assault of a girl companion near Waco several months ago. The negro charged with the crime was shot and killed by the girl's father immediately following his arrest. A mob burned the negro's body.

CLEMENCEAU READY FOR FIRST SPEECH IN U.S.

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Georges Clemenceau, France's war time premier, will deliver his first address to the American people tonight. He will talk extemporaneously, although he has spent much time since arriving in the United States gathering material for use in the speech.

Clemenceau was exhausted last night when he retired after a strenuous day beginning at 5 a. m. and ending shortly before 8 p. m. He leaned heavily on the rail as he climbed the stairs to his third floor apartment at the home of Charles Dana Gibson, and he did not join the Gibsons' dinner but had a light meal sent to his room.

Arising early today he seemed refreshed and eager for the coming of evening. Friends warned him to limit his speech to an hour. He has given no indication as to how long he will talk.

East Not West Says Lad

(By the Associated Press)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 21.—Hubert C. Clay, of Colorado Springs, Colo., is toting a pistol about the Harvard campus because of receipt of a letter signed "K. K. K." in which he was warned to leave the city. He told the police that while the note might seem a joke to the east such a message in Colorado would be deemed a serious matter.

"Well I'd lot rather shoot someone than have my body tarred and feathered," Clay, a sophomore, and descendant of Henry Clay, said he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan but withdrew because of its policy of "striking the dark."

COMMERCE CLUB ELECTION WAITS

Ballots Sent Out for the Election of Officers
for Next Year.

Final announcements for the election of directors for the Ada Chamber of Commerce were made by Ralph Warner, secretary, today.

He pointed out that the directors now in office would be ineligible for re-election. Seven of the members remain in office and seven retire, and rules of the organization do not permit officers to succeed themselves.

The men who are thus ruled ineligible for election are: B. M. Bobbitt, C. E. Canning, L. A. Ellison, Roy L. Givens, C. V. Gowing, A. Linscheid, M. C. Grigsby, M. F. Manville, M. O. Matthews, Dr. S. A. McKeel, W. M. Pegg, R. W. Simpson, W. L. Whitaker, Walter N. Wray.

Numbered envelopes were mailed out to all members. Mr. Warner said. The ballots must be returned in these envelopes or they become invalid. Only seven names are to be mentioned on the ballot.

All ballots will be opened by the election committee which will meet next Monday evening at 7 o'clock to count the votes. In this manner the ballots will be secret, no one except the committee knowing who voted. The fourteen men getting the greatest number of votes will qualify to go into the final election.

The final election will be conducted in the manner of the primary election. Mr. Warner pointed out that all members of the commerce body will be present in naming their candidate for the director seats as only the committee will see the ballots which will be destroyed after the report is made.

He urged members to return their selections immediately in order to have them arranged for the committee Monday evening. All ballots received after 7 o'clock on Monday will not be counted.

AID TO INDEPENDENTS

President Addresses Joint
Session of Congress
on Measure.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Enactment of the administration merchant marine bill was urged upon congress today by President Harding as necessary to relieve the government of present "staggering losses" in the operation of war built merchant fleet, and to establish a program of assured shipping to serve the nation in war and give a guarantee of commercial independence in time of peace.

President addressed a joint session of the house and senate, the executive declaring an actual momentary saving to the government would result from the proposed law. He challenged every insinuation of favored interests and the enrichment of the public treasury. The legislation, he asserted, automatically guarded against enrichments or perpetual bestowal.

"If such success attends, as we hope it will," he added, "the government outlays will be returned, the inspiration of opportunity to earn remains and the American transportation by sea is maintained."

The president said the merchant marine policy was not limited to "our own domain" adding that the maritime nations of the world "were in complete accord with the opposition here to the pending measure."

He declared those nations had a perfect right to such an attitude but that he wished to stress the American viewpoint which he said should be the viewpoint "from which one sees America carriers at sea. The independence of American commerce the American vessels for American reliance in the event of war."

DELEGATES DOWN TO TURK PROBLEM

Real Test of Conference
Under Way; America
Interested.

(By the Associated Press)

LAUSANNE, Nov. 21.—Delegates to the Lausanne conference, with the preliminary oratory concerning the close relations of Great Britain, France and Italy behind them, facing this morning the real test of the strength of the ties which have signified existed among them.

The conference meets in private session today for the organization and to start the work of making peace with the Turks. For centuries Turkey has been able to protect herself by setting European nations to quarrel among themselves over near east questions. The rivalry of France, Italy and Great Britain for supremacy in the Levant has been the protection of the "weak" sultans in the past and it remains to be seen whether it will also be of service to Mustapha Kemal Pasha and his Angora associates.

Richard Washburn Child, American ambassador to Italy, and Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland, who are acting as observers at the near east conference, conferred with Premier Poincaré of France at the Plaza Hotel this morning.

The American representatives it is learned, have not confined their preliminary conferences to France, but in a desire to learn the viewpoints of the other leading nations and proceedings in a general spirit of understanding they conferred also with Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, and Premier Mussolini.

EDWARDS RULES GOVERNOR CASE BE TRIED HERE

Has no Jurisdiction to

CASE FILED AT ADA

Hepburn Claims He Will File Duplicate Motion
in Pontotoc County.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 21.—The state supreme court today assigned District Judge Thomas A. Edwards of Cordell, to go to Ada to preside at the trial of Governor J. B. A. Robertson on a charge of accepting a bribe. Earlier in the day the court, on application of the Okmulgee county attorney, had issued a writ of prohibition restraining Judge J. W. Bolen of Ada from participating in the case.

(By the Associated Press)
OKMULGEE, Nov. 21.—The district court of Okmulgee county has no jurisdiction to hear a motion to revoke the order granting Governor J. B. A. Robertson a change of venue for his trial on a charge of accepting a bribe, Judge Thomas Edwards ruled today in sustaining the motion of the governor's counsel challenging the court's authority to hear proceedings in the case.

The governor's attorneys assert in motion that the court did not have jurisdiction because the case has already been transferred to Pontotoc county through District Judge Lucian B. Wright's decision Thursday, granting the governor a change of venue.

County Attorney James Hepburn, head of the prosecution, sought to have the change of venue order set aside on the grounds of Judge Wright being not qualified to grant it.

Wright's Decision Upheld
The court's decision in effect upholds Judge Wright's action in granting a change of venue and definitely transferring further proceedings in the case to Ada, Pontotoc county.

County Attorney James Hepburn immediately announced that he will file at Ada tomorrow a duplicate of his motion to vacate the change of venue order and said he would argue the motion as soon as the state supreme court designates a judge to preside. A few moments later the county attorney served the counsel for the governor with a written notice of his intentions. When court convened this morning the county attorney apologized to Judge Edwards for his statement yesterday that he would not follow the case to Ada, if it was found that the local court had no jurisdiction.

"I will follow the case anywhere your honor sends it. I did not mean any reflection upon the court," he said.

Attorneys for the governor declared they desired to go to trial immediately and announced their intention of requesting the presiding judge at Ada to set the date on the docket at the earliest possible date.

District Judge J. W. Bolen today received a notice from the state supreme court to the effect that he was temporarily disqualified to participate in the trial of Governor J. B. A. Robertson, charged with accepting a bribe, and that Friday had been set to finally decide the matter.

James Hepburn, county attorney of Okmulgee county, filed the protest against Judge Bolen, which was temporarily sustained by the supreme court. Judge Thomas A. Edwards has been ordered to Ada to conduct the proceedings, it was learned.

The letter containing the notice came to Judge Bolen by special delivery. He said this afternoon that he knew nothing of such action against him until the notice was placed in his hands. He is awaiting the decision of the supreme court Friday.

PROGRESSIVES MAY RULE SENATE

Indications point to a shaking up of the dry bones when the newly elected congress meets and organizes. The old guard, which has ruled that body with an iron hand for several decades, may find itself relegated to the back seats and the "progressive" group headed by La Follette, Borah and Johnson in control. The election added a number of these radical Republicans to the group already in the senate and now the old guard must either make terms with them or the progressives can form an alliance with the Democrats and control the organization and procedure of the senate. The farm bloc of the present congress composed of the progressive Republicans and Democrats has on more than one occasion whipped the old guard and now still worse is to come. Verily the old guard has fallen into evil days, for it will no longer be possible to whip the little fellows into line as was the case when Aldrich, Hale and Penrose ran the senate. The old guard is no longer strong enough to hold the party in leash and it does not know what the new bunch will undertake next.

THE UNCONQUERABLE SPIRIT

When John Quincy Adams was 80 years old he met in the streets of Boston, an old friend, who shook his trembling hand and said: "Good morning, and how is John Quincy Adams today?" quotes the Farm Journal.

"Thank you," replied the former president, "John Quincy Adams himself is well, I thank you, but the house in which he lives at present is becoming dilapidated. It is tottering upon its foundation. Time and the seasons have early destroyed it. Its roof is pretty well worn out. Its walls are much shattered, and it trembles with every wind. The old tenement is becoming almost uninhabitable, and I think John Quincy Adams will have to move out of it soon. But he himself, is quite well, thank you."

A great deal of sickening palaver is at times indulged in by the sentimentalists regarding criminals. Some of these hold that a criminal is really not responsible for his acts and is to be pitied rather than punished for his crimes. Heredity and environment are held responsible for his criminal tendencies and he is really not to blame that he is a criminal. Granting the soundness of that sort of slush, is society to tamely submit to the depredations of crooks. Perhaps so, but it will not take kindly to such a view. For its own protection society will always insist that punishment be meted out to the transgressor. Of course every means should be used in an endeavor to reform the criminal and make a useful citizen of him, but this does not mean that the hard way of said transgressor is to be made smooth and that he is to escape the consequences of his conduct.

Money and pull make a strong combination, but not as strong a power as public opinion. Newberry had ample resources and all the pull the administration could exert in his behalf but when the people had a chance to express themselves they spoke in no uncertain terms. Politicians have a terror of adverse public opinion and when it was expressed this time they quickly hunted cover, throwing Newberry overboard without ceremony. They could not afford to keep a Jonah on board the g. o. p. craft.

The booster cannot afford to be cast down by the failure of the public to appreciate his efforts. Gratitude has very little place in human nature, anyway, and the public spirited citizen must do his work expecting knocks and be satisfied with the consciousness that he has done his duty. No use to wait for the knockers to die for they are the longest lived individuals in the community and are always on the job.

The News hopes to see the debating societies in the college and public schools of the city make a good record this term. In recent years athletics have overshadowed interest in literary contests to a considerable extent. This is to be regretted as each has its place and merits attention accordingly. We hope to see the societies well supported and win numerous victories over opposing schools.

It is reported that there is great grief among the 300 wives of the sultan who a few nights ago skipped the country without saying goodbye to any of them. Now it is in order for each of the ladies to file charges of desertion. Just think what sort of a term he would get if convicted in each case.

President Harding is convinced that a ship subsidy is of the utmost importance and will go the limit to put such a measure through the present session of congress. If he succeeds it will be the final nail in the Republican coffin in 1924.

THE NEW CHALLENGING VOICE IN THE POLITICAL JUNGLE HAS A FAMILIAR SOUND

The Forum of the Press

(Ardmoreite)
M. Dior, the French minister of commerce recently called together the great Paris dressmakers and urged them to elaborate their styles. Ribbons, laces and embroideries, he said, were industries which needed support. M. Dior complained that the simple lines of the present styles are ruinous to these industries. He urged them to be more elaborate.

If Eugenie were to return to France today wearing a crinoline, we suppose from this, she would be hailed as a patriot, and the patroness of certain towns in Picardy and Flanders.

We wonder if the French commerce minister's novel plan for the salvation of certain industries could not be profitably adopted in this country. For instance, when there is an over-supply of cowhides, Brockton could put us in jack boots.

Garlic and the King
(Kansas City Journal)
His majesty, the king of Spain, has just seen fit to exercise a bit of royal prerogative which, it was supposed, long ago had perished with the advent of constitutions and the resulting diminution of kingly power. He has ordered that those who have just paraded the delightful Spanish delicacy, garlic, shall not approach him while traces of the pest are evident on the breath. In other words, the king can't stand the smell and has invoked his royal power to bring relief.

Is there not some eloquent Spanish Jacobin on hand to condemn this untimely revival of royal authority? There are thousands of Spaniards and for that matter, Americans, who still must suffer the odor helplessly. This is not liberalism, it is not democracy, it is absolutism, pure and simple.

The king has dug back into the dusty archives of the middle ages and heaped forth a custom that certainly does not belong to this age, when there are numerous exiled monarchs scattered over the world playing pinocle or writing their memoirs. If his latest move does not result in strengthening the Spanish party of the Left, the radicals plainly will have overlooked something.

But the sands of time are shifting. The head that wears a crown becomes more and more uneasy. Some time, perhaps, there will be a revolution, and the king will be asked how he got that way. Then he will flee to a neutral country and sit down to write his version of the events of his reign.

If he does like the former kaiser, he will say this royal edict against garlic on the breath was issued at the instance of his chancellor, and that he himself was not responsible for it. He will say that he was bullied into doing it by ambitious ministers, and that he yielded only after he was convinced it was the best thing for his people and his government.

And the Spanish people, inhaling the stimulating air of freedom, will sit down to their dining tables, ball for the garlic bottle and utter a curse on the memory of the passing regime.

COLLEGE NOTES

Dr. Breco has presented the college library with two valuable books and the museum with a ten-dollar bill issued by the Republic of Texas before it was a part of the United States.

President Linscheid reports that the school children of Tecumseh were enthusiastic over the plays and games demonstrated by Miss Jones of the college faculty. He also stated that the meeting was curtailed considerably by the heavy rains.

R. R. Robinson is planning to visit the meeting of the National Vocational Education Society at Milwaukee next week. On the trip he expects to visit some of the largest normal schools in the United States. Some of these are those at Cedar Falls, Iowa; Ypsilanti, Mich.; Normal University, Normal, Ill.; and the Indiana State Normal at Terre Haute.

Mrs. Mackin has received an invitation to attend the meeting of the Dean of Women of the colleges of the state. The meeting will take place at Stillwater next Saturday.

Tulsa is the place of the next meeting of the council of presidents of Oklahoma colleges. The meeting will be held December 4. It is planned to bring the following meeting to Ada, early in January or February.

BUSINESS SHOWS GAIN IN ALASKA

Completion of Railroad to Help Industry; Export Increase Seen.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON.—Considerable improvement in business in Alaska is foreseen by Associate Forester E. A. Sherman of the Department of Agriculture, who recently visited that territory. Exports of fish, for the last 10 or 12 years the great source of cash returns, will be surprisingly heavy this year, he reports, while a mining revival is in evidence and exports of high-grade lumber, cut from the Tongass National Forest, show a promising beginning.

"The people of southern Alaska are particularly pleased with the efforts of the Forest Service to establish a pulp and paper industry there and the road built by the Service and by the Bureau of Public Roads," Mr. Sherman says. "The road problem in Alaska is unlike that encountered elsewhere. In the states, travel and traffic exist before the Government begins building roads; in Alaska we have had to anticipate the demand."

The completion, probably next January, of the Government railroad from Seward to Fairbanks—a distance almost as great as from Washington to Boston—will greatly benefit the mining industry in the interior, in the opinion of Mr. Sherman, who predicts cheaper fuel for the mines.

"The output of canned salmon from Alaska this year will be about the average of the past 10 or 12 years—something over 4,000,000 cases," he states. "It looked last year as though the salmon industry was facing early destruction, but the run this year was in some cases greater than ever before."

The relatively new herring curing industry also has seen increased activity. Alaska last year shipped about 170,000 barrels of mild-cured herring, which was more than in any previous year. A shipment of almost twice as much is expected to be this year's total.

Mr. Sherman says that at one seaport he saw a vessel loading a cargo of 1,800,000 feet of Alaska lumber for Australia. It was only part of a 5,000,000 feet order to that country. Other lumber shipments the past summer were to London, to Chicago and to the Atlantic seaboard.

FOOD INDUSTRY LARGEST IN U.S.

Department Asks Better Protection Laws for Food Manufacturer.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The popular conception the iron and steel industry is the largest single one in the country is declared by the Agriculture Department to be erroneous. The greatest industry is that of food manufacturing. It outstrips iron and steel, the department says, as four outstrips one.

As emphasizing the need of additional food control laws, the department calls attention to the great growth in recent times of food manufacturing in factories as against preparation in homes. A few years ago, it says, most food was prepared at home or nearby and since the consumer knew about the conditions of its preparation there was little need for food laws. Today, as so much food is produced and prepared a long way from those who consume it, some sort of Government control is resorted to by department officers as necessary.

The meat packing industry alone, the Department declares, represents a greater value than the steel industry. The total value of manufactured food products, in 1919 was $13,391,914,000. Among the food products that make up the total flour mill products stand next to packing house products.

Considering the size of the task the federal inspection of food is low, it was stated. The cost having been less than one-hundredth of 1 percent of the value of those products. That the 700 is a large one is shown by census figures noting that in 1919 there were 67,443 establishments engaged in the manufacture of food products, with an annual output at the huge amount mentioned. These figures include manufactured goods only and do not take into account the great volume of commerce in raw foods such as milk, fresh fish, wheat, corn oats, fruits and vegetables. To these large amounts must also be added the food products imported, which in 1921 amounted to $672,975,00.

Don't Get Cold Feet! Wear Stacy Adams Shoes

—authoritative in style—dependable in quality—equitably priced—
—the sort of shoes most men prefer

It doesn't pay to buy shoes on the hit-or-miss method. Prices in themselves are not a dependable criterion of values. Nor is it safe to rely wholly upon your eyes when you purchase shoes. Even a cheap, inferior shoe can be "doctored up" to look presentable until it is worn.

You may purchase a shoe because you like its looks, but you judge that shoe by the way it feels and wears and holds its shape. If you are willing to apply at the time you purchase your shoes the same value-standard by which you will later judge them, if you are really seeking the utmost in style, fit and wear, you will find.

STACY ADAMS SHOES

They give you "value received" and that is a vital consideration these days.

GIRL NOW WELL AND STRONG

Daughter Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mother Advised

Wauseon, Ohio.—"My daughter always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet at those times. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing girls so much good so she began to take it. That is two years ago and she is a different girl since then. She is able to do any work she wants to do—although she is still careful not to do heavy work—and so well and strong. We recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers with ailing daughters, and I give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. A. M. Burkholder, Route No. 2, Box 1, Wauseon, Ohio.

Something out of balance will affect the finest clock, causing it to gain or lose. The proper adjustment made, all is well. So it is with women. Some trouble may upset you completely. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct the cause of the trouble and disagreeable symptoms will disappear as they did in the case of Mrs. Burkholder's daughter.

MOTHERS—it is worthy of your confidence.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as

Blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Think about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digesting torture and its scurrying, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1892! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and in a few days it was all over. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

High School News

Interest of the school this week was directed to the football game Thursday with Wilson high school. The local team has the unanimous support of the school, as was evidenced this week, and will enter the game to redeem the defeat at Pauls Valley. Wilson high school held Ardmore to a 6 to 0 game and is considered a formidable enemy.

Preparations for the greatest band concert the Ada high school has ever sponsored are being made, according to Prof. W. A. Hill. The band will appear in concert at the McSwain Theatre on the evening of December 7. Admission will be charged to raise funds to buy uniforms for the players.

It was pointed out that the band is one of the chief community attractions and that uniforms will add much to its standing in the city's affairs. It will also give the players an opportunity to make a better showing at the state meet at Norman next spring. The band took second place last year and is out for first honors this year.

Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association and business men of the city have endorsed the plan for a concert.

A roadway around the football field was being made this week and cars will be permitted to park both on east and west sides of the field. The roadway will be opened for Thursday's game.

The Junior class is preparing for its first social event for Saturday evening. It will be in the form of a play party to be held in the high school auditorium.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Howell

That the Co-operative cotton marketing association are making themselves felt in handling the crop is evidenced from the following paragraph taken from a trade letter issued by a prominent Wall Street firm and received by the News a few days ago:

"The new factor—the Farmers Marketing Association—reserve, or rather demand, serious consideration. All previous efforts in co-operation by growers failed, probably because farmers and not business men were managers. In the present instance, cotton growers have taken a leaf from the highly successful history of the California Fruit Growers, and their selling organization is in the hands of men thoroughly familiar with the mill and export trade and with connections in all American and European consuming markets. These managers profited quickly by their first experience in making the offers at 24 1-2 cents. Thereafter they made no offers, but let it be known that they had cotton for sale when prices suited them. For that reason there has been an absence of the usual spot pressure on the latest advance, but the action of the market today would indicate that the Associations have successfully disposed of considerable cotton at the new high level. No doubt more will be for sale when prices advance still further, but it is safe to say that nothing will be offered on any declines. As usual, when the holder is willing to sell, speculators hasten to take profits, and the market at the moment is, in consequence, in a reactionary mood. However, reactions can only temporarily retard the next upward movement.

Bulbs Must Be Planted Now (F. F. Rockwell, Horticultural Editor "Farm and Fireside")

Bulbs must be planted in the fall.

All of the spring flowering bulbs—tulips, narcissi, daffodils, hyacinths, crocuses, etc.—can be planted any time up until hard freezing weather. I have known several occasions where bulbs planted even during thaws in the winter gave as beautiful flowers in the spring as those which had been planted early. But as a rule, the sooner they are planted before hard freezing, the better.

Prepare the Ground in Advance for Planting

Bulbs will thrive in any soil that is good enough to support the ordinary garden annuals or hardy flowers. It is rather sandy, so much the better.

The beds where the bulbs are to be planted is spaded up to the depth of a foot or so and some old thoroughly rotted manure mixed through the soil. Fresh manure should never be used, as it is likely to cause the bulbs to rot.

There is one thing absolutely necessary and essential in bulb growing, however, and that is to be sure that there is perfect drainage.

How To Plant

As soon as the bulbs are received they should be planted. If the beds have been thoroughly prepared in advance, it will be but a few minutes work for an ordinary size bed.

Tulips should be planted four to six inches deep and six to twelve inches apart, according to the variety; Narcissus, daffodils and jonquills should be planted three to four inches deep and three to six inches apart; Hyacinths three to five inches deep and four to ten inches apart; crocuses, three to four inches deep. The depths mentioned are to the top of the bulb after it is covered with soil.

You Can Have Flowers From April To Late June

The most popular of all the spring flowering bulbs are the tulips. There are many beautiful varieties to choose from. It will be easier to make your selection if you keep in mind that there are three distinct types. The Early Flowering; the May Flowering, or Cottage Garden tulips, and the Giant Darwin type, which has become so popular of late and which produces enormous flowers, some of them on stems over two feet high. The "breeder" tulips are similar to the Darwins; and the "dragon" class with its curved and feathery petals is always interesting.

Among the early flowering tulips are Keltzerkroon crimson scarlet edged with bright yellow; prosperpine, bright rose, suffused with purple; vermillion brilliant, a very gay tulip. An early double is the golden king, handsome yellow with shadings. Among the cottage or May flowering single, are the golden crown, the Bontion d'Or (an excellent flower for cutting, and the fawn—a rose fawn changing to cream, one of the loveliest of late tulips.

The Darwin tulips are of course, the gems of all tulips, making strong growth on stems unusually tall, 24-30 inches. They are extremely effective and striking with their vivid coloring and substantial texture.

The narcissus or daffodil including the jonquills, are among the favorites in spring bulbs. They thrive either in the open or in the shade. "King Alfred" is a large, glaucous flowered daffodil, and the Glory of Leiden, with its large yellow trumpets, is styled "The King of Daffodils."

Haitian women are noted for being untiring walkers and it is not unusual for a woman in that country to travel on foot a distance of fifty-two miles and back in one day.

LIONS TOLD OF RING CONTEST

Able Speakers Make Today's Luncheon a Lively Affair.

The Shriner's ring contest was one of the chief topics discussed at the Lion's club luncheon today. H. B. Roach presented his claims in forceful terms and expressed his regret that the tribe of Ananias and Judas Iscariot had greatly increased during the past 2,000 years. J. I. McCauley presented his own case and another Shriner suggested that his good looks would probably carry McCauley through. Dr. McKelvey vigorously defended himself against the aspersions of other speakers and presented a very plausible argument. Mr. Sinex was represented by Mr. Williamson of Ft. Worth and when Col. Sidney Suggs of Ardmore was presented by Mr. Roach he straightway dashed the hopes of his introducer by declaring that since Roach had not said what he would do with the ring if it was awarded to him, and since he was sure Mr. Butcher of Allen would never part with it, he felt it his duty to support Butcher. Ed Gillette also made himself heard. These speeches brought out much merriment.

Getting down to the serious side of the occasion, Mr. Moore representing the Oklahoma Cotton Growers Association, made a short talk in which he told of the work of his organization, and requested that a committee from the Lion's club and Chamber of Commerce be appointed to go to Oklahoma City and thoroughly investigate the organization and its business methods. A motion was adopted authorizing the chair to appoint a committee to work in connection with the Chamber of Commerce in regard to the matter.

M. C. Taylor brought up the subject of a special train to Durant on the occasion of the Thanksgiving football game between the East Central and Southwestern colleges on that date. Mr. Harwell, agent of the Katy, stated that it would require a guaranty of 125 tickets at $3.90 each to get the train and that since the Atoka high school will play in Ada on the same day, it might be arranged to use the train to handle the Atoka crowd as well as the Ada boosters. The chair appointed a committee composed of M. C. Taylor, Sam Scheinberg and Roy Givens to handle the matter.

RED CROSS PLAN NEW CITY DRIVE

Business Men Sponsoring Organization to Start Drive Tuesday.

A meeting of the committee of local business men which directs the operations of the local Red Cross and United Charities was held at Red Cross headquarters this morning and a discussion of the drive for needed funds was held. Much enthusiasm was displayed and the decision was reached that a vigorous drive would be launched Tuesday, November 28, to secure the money.

Mrs. Orville Snead, secretary of the two charity associations, said the city had been districted and that committees would be out to work each district. She said more detailed reports as to the drive would be made later.

She urged the citizens of Ada to respond readily to the worthy cause and assist the business men who have been devoting valuable time to the move in putting the local Red Cross chapter on a substantial financial basis.

RED CROSS PUTS UP $9,739,872

Year's Budget Stresses Relief and Services at Home and Overseas.

MILLIONS FOR VETERAN AID

Over $3,000,000 Allotted to the Disabled—Foreign Work Lessens.

Washington.—Expenditures totaling $9,739,872.47 for carrying through its program of services and relief during the fiscal year in the United States and overseas are authorized in the budget of the American Red Cross, effective July 1, 1922. This total is $2,735,975 less than the expenditures for the last fiscal year, when disbursements reached $12,475,847.69. It is announced at National Headquarters in a statement emphasizing the necessity of continued support of the organization by enrollment during the annual Roll Call, November 11-November 30 inclusive. This total for the budget is exclusive of the large financial operations of the 3,300 active Red Cross Chapters, which, it is estimated, will more than double the total.

War Veterans Have First Call

First call on Red Cross funds is for the disabled ex-service men, of whom 27,487 were receiving treatment from the Government on June 1 last. This work for veterans and their families in a wide variety of service that the Government is not authorized to render and for which it has neither funds nor facilities has the call on $3,030,692.90 during the current year, or about $366,000 more than was expended last year for soldier service. Adding the funds disbursed in this humanitarian work of physical reconstruction following the World War by the Chapters throughout the country will approximate a total for the current year approaching $10,000,000. This work, in the opinion of the Surgeon General's office, will not reach its peak before 1926.

Through its Chapters the American Red Cross is equipped to find the individual ex-service man, help him in his problems and difficulties, provide immediately for his necessities, and open the way for him to the Government compensation and aid to which he is entitled. The extension of this work to the families of such men proves to them that the Red Cross has lost none of its sympathy nor will to service manifested in wartime. Similarly the service goes out to the men still in the Army and Navy, 11,087 of whom were under treatment in Government hospitals on June 1, 1922.

Greater Domestic Program

This year—after five years of constructive effort during the war and after the armistice—brings with it a greater responsibility for domestic service to the American Red Cross. The budget for foreign operations, however, totals $3,404,000, but of this amount $1,834,000 is for medical relief and hospital supplies for Russia, which is a part of the gift made by the American Red Cross in 1921 to the Russian famine relief work of the American Relief Administration program. The child health service in Europe continues, moreover, and $654,000 is appropriated for this work undertaken in 1920. Other items in the stringently diminished foreign program include $200,000 to support the League of Red Cross Societies, $22,000 for nurses' training schools instituted by the Red Cross abroad, and $600,000 for liquidation of the general Red Cross foreign relief program.

Prepared for Emergencies

For disaster relief the Red Cross has set aside $750,000, and for emergencies in Chapter work $500,000 to be available for domestic, insular and foreign demands. This is more than $395,000 above last year's expenditures. For service and assistance to the 3,300 Chapters and their branches $1,233,000 is provided by the National organization.

Other budget items of importance in the domestic program include $200,000 for assistance to other organizations and education institutions for training Red Cross nurses and workers; $150,000 for Roll Call assistance furnished to Chapters; $100,000 for unforeseen contingencies.

Of the total budget less than $500,000 is allotted for management in the National organization. No cash estimate, of course, is possible to weigh the value of the service by volunteers in the Chapters.

URGED WOMEN BE ON SCHOOL BOARD

Representatives on Text Book Commission and Board Regents Asked.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 17.—Women representatives upon both the board of regents of the state university and that state school text commission were recommended in resolutions adopted by the university women graduates of the state when the state organization of the American Association of University Women met this week in Oklahoma City. Mrs. George M. Ransom of Tulsa, president of the Oklahoma division of the association, presided at a meeting following a banquet.

Representatives and members from branches in nine Oklahoma cities besides the state capital were present at the meeting. The branches are located in the following cities: Tulsa, Bartlesville, Sapulpa, Okmulgee, Muskogee, McAlester, Ardmore, Chickasha and Norman.

In a telegram received while the meeting was in progress Mrs. Ada Comstock, national president, said that the organization which has recently affiliated with the international organization which has branches in fifteen nations. She stated that the membership in the United States numbers more than 80,000. She stated that the purpose of the organization is to centralize the forward effort of university women of all nations, to promote international understanding, and to help young women to higher education.

It was announced at the meeting that the Oklahoma City branch is supporting three local young women at Oklahoma City college.

As a part of the internal policy of the Oklahoma division of the national organization resolutions were adopted at the meeting asking that an Oklahoma woman be named director of the southwestern division of the national association, to succeed the St. Louis woman who now holds that position.

Mrs. Comstock expressed the hope, in her telegram, that the Oklahoma division would set a pace for speedy organization and aggressive action for all other state organizations.

In support of the suggestion that a woman be named on the board of regents of the state university President Ransom said at the meeting that since there are seven members of the board and more than one-seventh of the students and alumni of the university are women the request for one woman representative on the board, was even less than a request for proportional representation.

Relative to the resolution asking that a woman be appointed to the text book commission, Mrs. Ransom pointed out that it has always been primarily woman's function to teach and that she reserves a hearing as to what she shall teach and the tools with which she is to work.

Officers of the state organization are:

Mrs. Ransom, president; Mrs. Eva Hirdley Green of Tulsa, Secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W. H. England of Ponca City, first vice president; Dr. Alma J. Neill of Norman, second vice president, Miss Jane Hill Miller of Chickasha, auditor.

BLUE EYES.

Under the laws of Mexico it is twice as much an offense to mutilate the face of a woman as that of a man. The idea of this is a very sensible one, being based on fact that to a woman her beauty is a great asset; to a man it is therefore a very serious personal injury.

Alcohol made from sugar is one of the staple products of Cuba.

Fore!-!-!

They are two kinds of golf players that the typer uv these lines would admire to see some laws made to regulate. One uv 'em is dangerous and makes the hole course about as safe as a battle field uv the advancing Turks an' the Armenians with yourself in the role uv the Armenian; the other makes a honest, hard workin' guy that plays fer the love uv the sport so all-fired mad it takes him a week to get back on his game after seein' one of 'em in action.

The first one referred to is the speed demon. The typer uv these lines has saw guys play this summer that has seemed to have the impression that they is some kind uv a time handicap on the game and that they is a lovin' cup or a medal uv some kind waitin' at the club house for the first guy to make the course, irrespective uv his feller players, in the shortest time. They ought to wear a track suit so as to give 'em a freer stride on the tuns. You go out with some guy that has the same feelin' uv the game as yourself and both uv you tee off like human bein's and play through a hole or 2, and about the time you get a mean lay that takes a mighty particular mashie and are puttin' everything you've got in the stroke tryin' to save a penalty you hear a whiz that sounds like a gas alarm at a training camp and a ball whizzes so close to your head that you wisht you had your tin hat. Naturally a guy will break for cover in a time like that and you wont more'n get there till the speed demon comes in sight a shoutin' to his caddy to get the grass pulled out from around the ball so as not to lose no time on the next shot. He does the hole 9 in about the time you and your human friend does the first 5, but the typer uv these lines ain't heard uv any medal bein' struck for golf speed yet.

The other guy that the typer uv these lines has in mind is the guy that is willin' to let his drive count a hole stroke but wants the privilege of lettin' all of his mid field slices, tops etc. be tallied at the rate uv about 1-4 per each so as he can get in the first hole not more'n 1 over par. With the plan uv countin' he can turn in a pretty fair lookin' card at the end uv the round. The typer uv these lines is inventin' a patent with a numberin' machine attached on it that can be strapped on guys uv this kind so as they can be checked up on and then they can be classified accordin' to the score they actually makes.

PRESENT SYSTEM SCHOOLS FLAYED

Bargain Counter Method of Education Scorned by School Leads.

(By the Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 18.—The present day bargain counter theory of education—the theory that education should be made attractive to the students—has resulted in a heterogeneous mass of unrelated subjects, Prof. Herbert S. Hadley of the University of Colorado, told members of the Missouri State Teachers' association here today.

Professor Hadley declared "there is something seriously wrong with the present educational system" and added that he believed the trouble is due to a system of "educational coddling" by which students decided on their courses of study instead of being required to take what the experience of centuries has shown to be the most valuable for training, disciplining and developing the mind.

"The classics have been minimized in importance," he said, "and mathematics, history and philosophy are following in their wake. College education has come to be regarded by many as a social experience. We should go back to funda-mentals in the work of education and, instead of trying to coddle and please, we should strive to discipline, train and direct.

"If the present generation stands the strain to which their morals and mental development are subjected by the movie and the automobile, with the spirit of dash and irresponsibility; with the meretricious influence which they exert, then we must conclude that the young men and women of the day have inherited mental and moral qualities which give us hopeful assurance of the future."

EDWARDS NAMED IN ROBERTSON CASE

FILE MOTION TO QUASH OKMULGEE JURY INDICTMENT

Attorneys File Motion to Throw Out Action of
Grand Jury

NO DATES SET

Twelve Points Included in
Information Filed by Attorneys.

A motion to set aside and quash the indictment returned against Governor J. B. A. Robertson in the case of "Incident for bribery" returned by the Okmulgee county grand jury March 21, was filed in district court of Pontotoc county here late yesterday afternoon by Robertson's attorneys.

Twelve points were set out in the motion filed here yesterday as reasons for Robertson's contention in quashing the indictment.

Twelve Points Stated.

Following are the twelve points in the motion:

- 1—That said indictment was not found, endorsed, presented or filed as prescribed by the statute of the state.
- 2—That names of said witnesses endorsed upon said indictment are not the witnesses examined before the grand jury and upon whose testimony the indictment was found.
- 3—That the indictment was not found by competent authority and that no legal or competent evidence was placed before the grand jury that returned the said indictment and that this action was a violation of the constitutional rights of the defendant and contrary to law.
- 4—The defendant alleges that the grand jury which returned the indictment received incompetent, irrelevant hearsay and secondary evidence in order to receive any testimony which would authorize them to return the said indictment.
- 5—That the defendant further alleges that the grand jury were not sworn in by law and that said grand jury was not authorized by law to find and return the indictment.
- 6—That the defendant alleges that parties other than witnesses and prosecuting attorney aided and directed the grand jury.
- 7—That the indictment was not voted upon separately but collectively with other indictments against other parties.
- 8—That the records do not show that the grand jury returned any indictment in open court and that the grand jury was in the courtroom while the motion was being filed.
- 9—That the defendant further alleges that the indictment was purported to have been returned on March 21, but was not filed in the presence of the jury as provided by law.
- 10—That the indictment was not endorsed as a true bill and signed by the foreman of the jury.
- 11—That the grand jury as not legal as no clerk was appointed from their number and no minutes kept.
- 12—That witnesses were not sworn in by the foreman of the jury.

The motion was signed by five attorneys of the governor, L. O. Lytle, R. B. Thompson, Joe Eaton, J. D. Lydick and George Rittenhouse.

L. E. Franklin, Pontotoc county clerk, was not informed as to when the motion was to be heard or who would sit in the hearing. The motion to quash the indictment was received through the mails late Monday afternoon.

Franklin has received no further information on the change of venue proceedings which brought the trial of Governor J. B. A. Robertson, charged with "bribery," to Ada. Franklin has not been informed officially when the trial would be held or who would sit in the hearing.

Attorneys for Governor Robertson, their attaches, court officials of Okmulgee county, their attaches, state authorities and others connected with the trial of Governor J. B. A. Robertson, charged with accepting a bribe, were expected to arrive in this city on the evening Frisco from Okmulgee, according to reports from reliable sources.

"Mussolini, You said I was surrounded at Territet by black shirted fascists. Let me tell you, sir, we wear white shirts and we have plenty of them."

Pertina asserts that in reply to this he was only able to express hopes that the Italian premier might long be able to "preserve" the present immaculate line of his shirts.

COUPLE ATTACKED BY NEGRO SLAYER

Man Slain and Companion
Assaulted by Black
Assailant.

(By the Associated Press)

WACO, Texas, Nov. 21.—Grady Skipworth, 19, was shot and killed and a young woman companion attacked last night near Lever's Leap on the Bosque river, three miles north of Waco. The couple was riding in an automobile. Skipworth was shot in the neck with a shotgun at close range. The young woman, who physicians say was "treated roughly" is in a hospital where doctors refuse to permit her to be interviewed early today.

Officers said they were working in the dark until the woman recovered sufficiently to be questioned.

According to reports to the police the attack was made by a negro, who after robbing Skipworth, shot him and threw his body over a 30-foot cliff. The negro then dragged the girl into the brush where he beat her three hours, and then threw her over the cliff. The tragedy occurred about 9 o'clock last night and the girl made her way home about 3 o'clock this morning.

The negro escaped in Skipworth's car, heading towards Dallas, officers said.

Excitement is running high here. The crime corresponds in detail to the killing of Sid Bolton, prominent young man, and the assault on a girl companion near Waco several months ago. The negro charged with the crime was shot and killed by the girl's father immediately following his arrest. A mob burned the negro's body.

Visiting Wives of Shriners
Not to be Neglected
While in Ada.

In passing out that word to those who will assist in plans for the entertainment of visiting Shriners and their wives here Friday, Mrs. C. A. Zorn, head of the ladies entertainment division of the program, today issued a statement giving detailed instructions. The instructions were given out at a meeting held Monday and are published. Mrs. Zorn said, for the benefit of those who could not attend. Her statement follows:

"Every Shriners' wife is requested to meet at the registration headquarters at nine o'clock Friday morning. They will be given a reception badge. To receive this badge each woman will be required to acquaint herself with the program of entertainment and otherwise be prepared to help extend a welcome to the visiting ladies."

"At the time the trains arrive on the Katy and Frisco, about 11 o'clock, all are to be on hand at the stations. They will go from there to the registration headquarters, with the exception of those who are to go to the dining rooms where lunch will be served, and the committee on reception at the Harris hotel. It is necessary for all to return immediately to these stations."

Start After Registration
Ladies who go to the main registration headquarters will assist in the work of registering visitors. Cards for the different features of the entertainment will be passed out by them. After lunch comes the parade and then the automobile trip. A bridge party at the Elks home over the McSwain theatre will follow the automobile trip.

If you are to drive a car you should be on hand at the registration headquarters immediately after the parade. You will be required to take a group of ladies to the glass plant and greenhouse. W. E. Pitt, manager, invited the ladies to visit the greenhouse and they will be taken there following the visit to the American Glass Casket company's plant.

Stickers for cars will be furnished to all who apply at the McSwain theatre. Decorations of cars will be left up to individuals. Material to decorate cars can be obtained at the Holly Drug store and at the building two doors west of the Holly Drug store. Cost of the material will not be great and various kinds of decorative material can be purchased.

Meals will be served at the following places:

Christian church in the M. Levin building opposite the Harris hotel; Methodist church at the old Guaranty State bank; Presbyterian church at the old Lancaster cafe building; Baptist church in the basement of the church building; Tarriss Hotel Coffee Shop; Coney Island cafe on West Main; and Home Dining Room on West Twelfth street. Those desiring further information should call Mrs. Zorn.

Mrs. Zorn stated further that she was pleased with the cooperation being given by the committees. She expressed confidence that the visitors would be pleased with the welcome to be extended to them while here.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 21.—Hubert C. Clay, of Colorado Springs, Colo., is totting a pistol about the Harvard campus because of receipt of a letter signed "K. K. K." in which he was warned to leave the city.

He told the police that while the note might seem a joke to the east such a message in Colorado would be deemed a serious matter.

"Well I'd lot rather shoot someone than have my body tarred and feathered."

Clay, a sophomore, and descendant of Henry Clay, said he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan but withdrew because of its policy of "striking the dark."

COMMERCE CLUB ELECTION WAITS

Ballots Sent Out for the Election of Officers
for Next Year.

Final announcements for the election of directors for the Ada Commerce Club were made by Ralph Warner, secretary, today.

He pointed out that the directors now in office would be ineligible for re-election. Seven of the members remain in office and seven retire, and rules of the organization do not permit officers to succeed themselves.

The men who are thus ruled ineligible for election are: B. M. Bobbitt, C. E. Cunningham, L. A. Ellison, Roy L. Givens, C. V. Gowing, A. Linseheid, M. C. Griskley, M. E. Marville, M. O. Matthews, Dr. S. A. McKeel, W. M. Peck, R. W. Simpson, W. L. Whitaker, Walter N. Wray.

Numbered envelopes were mailed out to all members, Mr. Warner said. The ballots must be returned in these envelopes or they become invalid. Only seven names are to be mentioned on the ballot.

All ballots will be opened by the election committee which will meet next Monday evening at 7 o'clock to count the votes. In this manner the ballots will be secret, no one except the committee knowing who voted. The fourteen men getting the greatest number of votes will qualify to go into the final election.

The final election will be conducted in the manner of the primary election. Mr. Warner pointed out that all members of the commerce body will be protected in naming their candidate for the director seats as only the committee will see the ballots which will be destroyed after the report is made.

He urged members to return their selections immediately in order to have them arranged for the committee Monday evening. All ballots received after 7 o'clock on Monday will not be counted.

HARDING URGES CONGRESS PASS MARINE MEASURE

Would Relieve Government

AID TO INDEPENDENTS

President Addresses Joint
Session of Congress
on Measure.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Enactment of the administration merchant marine bill was urged upon congress today by President Harding as necessary to relieve the government of present "staggering losses" in the operation of war built merchant fleet, and to establish a program of assured shipping to serve the nation in war and give a guarantee of commercial independence in time of peace.

President addressed a joint session of the house and senate, the executive declaring an actual emergency saving to the government would result from the proposed law. He challenged every insinuation of favored interests and the enrichment of the special few at the expense of the public treasury. The legislation, he asserted, automatically guarded against enrichment or perpetual bestowal.

"Such success attends, as we hope it will," he added, "the government outlays will be returned, the inspiration of opportunity to earn remains and the American transportation by sea is maintained."

The president said the merchant marine policy was not limited to "our own domain" adding that "the maritime nations of the world were in complete accord with the opposition here to the pending measure."

He declared those nations had a perfect right to such an attitude but that he wished to stress the American viewpoint which he said should be the view point "from which one sees America carriers at sea, the independence of American commerce, the American vessels for American reliance in the event of war."

PROGRESSIVES MAY RULE SENATE

Indications point to a shaking up of the dry bones when the newly elected congress meets and organizes. The old guard, which has ruled that body with an iron hand for several decades, may find itself relegated to the back seats and the "progressive" group headed by La Follette, Borah and Johnson in control. The election added a number of these radical Republicans to the group already in the senate and now the old guard must either make terms with them or the progressives can form an alliance with the Democrats and control the organization and procedure of the senate. The firm bloc of the present congress composed of the progressive Republicans and Democrats has on more than one occasion whipped the old guard and now still worse is to come. Verily the old guard has fallen into evil days, for it will no longer be possible to whip the little fellows into line as was the case when Aldrich, Hale and Penrose ran the senate. The old guard is no longer strong enough to hold the party in leash and it does not know what the new bunch will undertake next.

THE UNCONQUERABLE SPIRIT

When John Quincy Adams was 80 years old he met in the streets of Boston, an old friend, who shook his trembling hand and said: "Good morning, and how is John Quincy Adams today?" quotes the Farm Journal. "Thank you," replied the former president, "John Quincy Adams himself is well, I thank you, but the house in which he lives at present is becoming dilapidated. It is tottering upon its foundation. Time and the seasons have early destroyed it. Its roof is pretty well worn out. Its walls are much shattered, and it trembles with every wind. The old tenement is becoming almost uninhabitable, and I think John Quincy Adams will have to move out of it soon. But he himself, is quite well, thank you."

A great deal of sickening palaver is at times indulged in by the sentimentalists regarding criminals. Some of these hold that a criminal is really not responsible for his acts and is to be pitied rather than punished for his crimes. Heredity and environment are held responsible for his criminal tendencies and he is really not to blame that he is a criminal. Granting the soundness of that sort of slush, is society to tamely submit to the depredations of crooks. Perhaps so, but it will not take kindly to such a view. For its own protection society will always insist that punishment be meted out to the transgressor. Of course every means should be used in an endeavor to reform the criminal and make a useful citizen of him, but this does not mean that the hard way of said transgressor is to be made smooth and that he is to escape the consequences of his conduct.

Money and pull make a strong combination, but not as strong a power as public opinion. Newberry had ample resources and all the pull the administration could exert in his behalf but when the people had a chance to express themselves they spoke in no uncertain terms. Politicians have a terror of adverse public opinion and when it was expressed this time they quickly hunted cover, throwing Newberry overboard without ceremony. They could not afford to keep a Jonah on board the g. o. p. craft.

The booster cannot afford to be cast down by the failure of the public to appreciate his efforts. Gratitude has very little place in human nature, anyway, and the public spirited citizen must do his work expecting knocks and be satisfied with the consciousness that he has done his duty. No use to wait for the knockers to die for they are the longest lived individuals in the community and are always on the job.

The News hopes to see the debating societies in the college and public schools of the city make a good record this term. In recent years athletics have overshadowed interest in literary contests to a considerable extent. This is to be regretted as each has its place and merits attention accordingly. We hope to see the societies well supported and win numerous victories over opposing schools.

It is reported that there is great grief among the 300 wives of the sultan who a few nights ago skipped the country without saying goodbye to any of them. Now it is in order for each of the ladies to file charges of desertion. Just think what sort of a term he would get if convicted in each case.

President Harding is convinced that a ship subsidy is of the utmost importance and will go the limit to put such a measure through the present session of congress. If he succeeds it will be the final nail in the Republican coffin in 1924.

THE NEW CHALLENGING VOICE IN THE POLITICAL JUNGLE HAS A FAMILIAR SOUND

The Forum of the Press

(Archie Moore)
M. Dior, the French minister of commerce recently called together the great Paris dressmakers and urged them to elaborate their styles. Ribbons, laces and embroideries, he said, were industries which needed support. M. Dior complained that the simple lines of the present styles are ruinous to these industries. He urged them to be more elaborate.

It is rumored that M. Dior was to return to France today wearing a criminal. We suppose from this, she would be held as a patriot, and the patroness of certain towns in Picardy and Flanders.

We wonder if the French commerce minister's novel plan for the salvation of certain industries could not be profitably adopted in this country. For instance, when there is an epidemic of cowbirds Brocton could put us in jack boots.

Garle and the King (Kansas City Journal)
His majesty, the King of Spain, has just been fit to exercise a bit of royal prerogative which it was supposed, long ago had passed with the advent of constitutions and the reigning distinction of kindly monarch. He has ordered that a man who has been paroled on the condition that he should not appear in public should be arrested and sent to the penitentiary. The king can't stand it, and he has revoked his royal order to be lenient.

It is there, the more eloquent Spanish monarch has found to condemn this mannerly reversal of royal authority. There are thousands of Spaniards and for that matter Americans, who still must suffer an odd indignity. Take Spain for instance. It is not democracy, it is absolutism, pure and simple.

The king has gone back into the dusty archives of the middle ages and he has found a custom that certainly does not belong to this age, when there are numerous exiled monarchs scattered over the world, playing phantasms or writing their memoirs. If his latest move does not result in strengthening the Spanish party of the Left, the radical cause plainly will have overlooked something.

But the sands of time are sitting. The head that wears a crown, becomes more and more ancient. Some time, perhaps, there will be a revolution, and the king will be asked how he got that way. Then he will flee to a neutral country and sit down to write his version of the events of his reign.

If he does like the former king, he will say this royal edict against Garle on the breath was issued at the instance of his chancellor, and that he himself was not responsible for it. He will say that he was bullied into doing it by ambitious ministers, and that he yielded only after he was convinced it was the best thing for his people and his government.

And the Spanish people, inhaling the stimulating air of freedom, will sit down to their dining tables, ball for the garlic bottle and utter a curse on the memory of the passing regime.

A small, uninhabited island off the South American coast has been purchased from Ecuador by a dozen students from Loughborough college, England. They raised $25,000 and purchased a ninety-ton boat and their island, on which they hope to make a good living growing fruit and raising cattle.

COLLEGE NOTES

Dr. Breco has presented the college library with two valuable books and the museum with a two-dollar bill issued by the state of Texas before it was a part of the United States.

President Linchford reports that the school children of Tennessee were enthusiastic over the plays and games demonstrated by Miss Jones of the college faculty. He also stated that the meeting was curtailed considerably by the heavy rains.

R. B. Robinson is planning to visit the meeting of the National Vocational Education Society at Milwaukee next week. On the way he expects to visit some of the best normal schools in the United States. Some of these are those at Cedar Falls, Iowa; Washington, D.C.; Normal University, Normal, Ill.; and the Indiana State Normal at Terre Haute.

Mrs. Mackin has received an invitation to attend the meeting of the Dean of Women of the colleges of the state. The meeting will take place at Stillwater next Saturday.

Tulsa is the place of the next meeting of the council of presidents of Oklahoma colleges. This meeting will be held December 4. It is planned to bring the following meeting to Ada, early in January or February.

SENTENCE COMMUNIST REFUSED ADMITTANCE AT JAILER PEN

BUSINESS SHOWS GAIN IN ALASKA

Completion of Railroad to Help Industry; Export Increase Seen.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON.—Considerable improvement in business in Alaska is foreseen by Associate Forester E. A. Sherman of the Department of Agriculture, who recently visited that territory. Exports of fish, for the last 10 or 12 years the great source of cash returns, will be surprisingly heavy this year, he reports, while a revival is in evidence and exports of high-grade lumber, cut from the Tongass National Forest, show a promising beginning. "The people of southern Alaska are particularly pleased with the efforts of the Forest service to establish a pulp and paper industry here and the road built by the Service and by the Bureau of Public Roads," Mr. Sherman says. "The road problem in Alaska is unlike that encountered elsewhere. In the states, travel and traffic exist before the Government begins building roads; in Alaska we have had to anticipate the demand."

The completion, probably next January, of the Government railroad from Seward to Fairbanks—a distance almost as great as from Washington to Boston—will greatly benefit the mining industry in the interior, in the opinion of Mr. Sherman, who greets cheaper fuel for the mines.

"The output of canned salmon from Alaska this year will be about the average of the past 10 or 12 years—something over 4,000,000 cases," he states. "It looked last year as though the salmon industry was facing early destruction, but the run this year was in some cases greater than ever before."

The relatively new herring curing industry also has seen increased activity. Alaska last year shipped about 170,000 barrels of mild-cured herring, which was more than in any previous year. A shipment of almost twice as much is expected to be this year's total.

Mr. Sherman says that at one report he saw a vessel loading a cargo of 1,800,000 feet of Alaska lumber for Australia. It was only part of a 5,000,000 feet order to that country. Other lumber shipments the past summer were to London, to Chicago and to the Atlantic seaboard.

Prof. Frank M. Lynn is conducting a singing school at Pecan Grove. He reports an attendance of about 100 and excellent interest.

FOOD INDUSTRY LARGEST IN U.S.

Department Asks Better Protection Laws for Food Manufacturer.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The peculiar conception the iron and steel industry is the largest single one in the country is declared by the Agriculture Department to be erroneous. The greatest industry is that of food manufacturing, it outstrips iron and steel, the department says, in four out of five ways. As emphasizing the need of additional food control laws, the department calls attention to the great growth in recent times of food manufacturing in factories as against preparation in homes. A few years ago, it says, most food was prepared at home or nearby and since the consumer knew about the conditions of its preparation there was little need for food laws. Today, as so much food is produced and prepared a long way from those who consume it, some sort of Government control is required by department officers as necessary.

The meat packing industry alone, the Department declares, represents a greater value than the steel industry. The total value of manufactured food products, in 1919 was $13,331,214,000. Among the food products that make up the total there are all products stand next to packing house products.

Considering the size of the task the federal inspection of food is low, it was stated. The cost having been less than one-hundredth of 1 percent of the value of those products. That the food is a large one is shown by census figures noting that in 1919 there were 67,443 establishments engaged in the manufacture of food products, with an annual output at the huge amount mentioned. These figures include manufacturing goods only and do not take into account the great volume of commerce in raw foods such as milk, fresh fish, wheat, corn oats, fruits and vegetables. To these large amounts must also be added the food products imported, which in 1921 amounted to $672,975,00.

GIRL NOW WELL AND STRONG

Daughter Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mother Advised

Wauseon, Ohio.—"My daughter always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet at those times. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing girls so much good so she began to take it. That is two years ago and she is a different girl since then. She is able to do any work she wants to do—although she is still careful not to do heavy work—and so well and strong. We recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers with ailing daughters, and I give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. A. M. BURKHOLDER, Route No. 2, Box 1, Wauseon, Ohio.

Something out of balance will affect the finest clock, causing it to gain or lose. The proper adjustment made, all is well. So it is with women. Some trouble may upset you completely.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct the cause of the trouble and disagreeable symptoms will disappear as they did in the case of Mrs. Burkholder's daughter.

MOTHERS—it is worthy of your confidence.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red blood cells. S. S. S. builds them by the millions! You can increase your red blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have better thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-destroying, unrelenting itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the millions! It has been doing it since 1892! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-purifiers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and in a few days, I thank you very much, I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red blood cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

City of Ada is to open a tile factory of its own. Walter Smith, street commissioner, said today that forms were being bought and that on rainy days when his men could not work the streets, he would have them working in the tile shop. The tile will be used in the streets and in the drainage systems. A concrete block machine is also to be installed by the city for its own use.

High School News

Interest of the school this week was directed to the football game Thursday with Wilson high school. The local team has the unanimous support of the school, as was evidenced this week, and will enter the game to redeem the defeat at Pauls Valley. Wilson high school held Ardmore to a 6 to 0 game and is considered a formidable enemy.

Preparations for the greatest band concert the Ada high school has ever sponsored are being made, according to Prof. W. A. Hill. The band will appear in concert at the McSwain Theatre on the evening of December 7. Admission will be charged to raise funds to buy uniforms for the players.

It was pointed out that the band is one of the chief community attractions and that uniforms will add much to its standing in the city's affairs. It will also give the players an opportunity to make a better showing at the state meet at Norman next spring. The band took second place last year and is out for first honors this year.

Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association and business men of the city have endorsed the plan for a concert.

A roadway around the football field was being made this week and cars will be permitted to park both on east and west sides of the gridiron. The roadway will be opened for Thursday's game.

The Junior class is preparing for its first social event for Saturday evening. It will be in the form of a play party to be held in the high school auditorium.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Howell

That the Co-operative cotton marketing association are making themselves felt in handling the crop is evidenced from the following paragraph taken from a trade letter issued by a prominent Wall Street firm and received by the News a few days ago:

"The new factor—the Farmers Marketing Association—reserve, or rather demand, serious consideration. All previous efforts in co-operation by growers failed, probably because farmers and not business men were managers. In the present instance, cotton growers have taken a lead from the highly successful history of the California Fruit Growers' and their selling organization is in the hands of men thoroughly familiar with the mill and export trade and with connections in all American and European consuming markets. These managers profited quickly by their first experience in making the offers at 24 1-2 cents. Thereafter they made no offers, but let it be known that they had cotton for sale when prices suited them. For that reason there has been an absence of the usual spot pressure on the latest advance, but the action of the market today would indicate that the Associations have successfully disposed of considerable cotton at the new high level. No doubt more will be for sale when prices advance still further, but it is safe to say that nothing will be offered on any declines. As usual, when the holder is willing to sell, speculators hasten to take profits, and the market at the moment is, in consequence, in a reactionary mood. However, reactions can only temporarily retard the next upward movement."

Bulbs Must Be Planted Now (P. F. Rockwell, Horticultural Editor "Farm and Fireside")

Bulbs must be planted in the fall.

All of the spring flowering bulbs—tulips, narcissi, daffodils, hyacinths, crocuses, etc.—can be planted any time up until hard freezing weather. I have known several occasions where bulbs planted even during thaws in the winter gave as beautiful flowers in the spring as those which had been planted early. But as a rule, the sooner they are planted before hard freezing, the better.

Prepare the Ground in Advance for Planting

Bulbs will thrive in any soil that is good enough to support the ordinary garden annuals or hardy flowers. It is rather sandy, so much the better.

The beds where the bulbs are to be planted is spaded up to the depth of a foot or so and some old thoroughly rotted manure mixed through the soil. Fresh manure should never be used, as it is likely to cause the bulbs to rot.

There is one thing absolutely necessary and essential in bulb growing, however, and that is to be sure that there is perfect drainage.

How To Plant

As soon as the bulbs are received they should be planted. If the beds have been thoroughly prepared in advance, it will be but a few minutes work for an ordinary size bed.

Tulips should be planted four to six inches deep and six to twelve inches apart, according to the variety; Narcissus, daffodils and jonquils should be planted three to four inches deep and three to six inches apart; Hyacinths three to five inches deep and four to ten inches apart; crocuses, three to four inches deep. The depths mentioned are to the top of the bulb after it is covered with soil.

You Can Have Flowers From April To Late June

The most popular of all the spring flowering bulbs are the tulips. There are many beautiful varieties to choose from. It will be easier to make your selection if you keep in mind that there are three distinct types. The Early Flowering; the May Flowering; or Cottage Garden tulips, and the Giant Darwin type, which has become so popular of late and which produces enormous flowers, some of them on stems over two feet high. The "breeder" tulips are similar to the Darwins; and the "dragon" class with its curved and feathery petals is always interesting.

Among the early flowering tulips are Keizerkroon crimson scarlet edged with bright yellow; prosper-pine, bright rose, suffused with purple; vermillion brilliant, a very gay tulip. An early double is the golden king, handsome yellow with shadings. Among the cottage or May flowering single, are the golden crown, the Bontou d'Or (an excellent flower for cutting, and the fawn—a rose tawny changing to cream, one of the loveliest of late tulips.

The Darwin tulips are of course, the gems of all tulips, making strong growth on stems unusually tall, 24-30 inches. They are extremely effective and striking with their vivid coloring and substantial texture.

The narcissus or daffodil including the jonquils, are among the favorites in spring bulbs. They thrive either in the open or in the shade. "King Alfred" is a large, giant flowered daffodil, and the Glory of Leiden, with its large yellow trumpets, is styled "The King of Daffodils."

Haitian women are noted for being untiring walkers and it is not unusual for a woman in that country to travel on foot a distance of fifty-two miles and back in one day.

RED CROSS PUTS UP $9,739,872

Year's Budget Stresses Relief and Services at Home and Overseas.

MILLIONS FOR VETERAN AID

Over $3,000,000 Allotted to the Disabled—Foreign Work Lessens.

Washington.—Expenditures totaling $9,739,872 for carrying through its program of services and relief during the fiscal year in the United States and overseas are authorized in the budget of the American Red Cross, effective July 1, 1922. This total is $2,735,975 less than the expenditures for the last fiscal year, when disbursements reached $12,475,847.69. It is announced at National Headquarters in a statement emphasizing the necessity of continued support of the organization by enrollment during the annual Red Cross week, November 11-November 30 inclusive. This total for the budget is exclusive of the large financial operations of the 3,500 active Red Cross chapters, which, it is estimated, will more than double the total.

War Veterans Have First Call

First call on Red Cross funds is for the disabled ex-service men, of whom 27,487 were receiving treatment from the Government on June 1 last. This work for veterans and their families in a wide variety of service that the Government is not authorized to render and for which it has neither funds nor facilities has the call on $50,000,000 during the current year, or about $500,000 more than was expended last year for soldier service. Adding the funds disbursed in this humanitarian work of physical reconstruction following the World War by the chapters throughout the country will approximate a total for the current year approaching $10,000,000. This work, in the opinion of the Surgeon General's office, will not reach its peak before 1926.

Through its chapters the American Red Cross is equipped to find the individual ex-service man, help him in his problems and difficulties, provide immediately for his necessities, and open the way for him to the Government compensation and aid to which he is entitled. The extension of this work to the families of such men proves to them that the Red Cross has lost none of its sympathy nor will to service manifested in wartime. Similarly the service goes out to the men still in the Army and Navy, 11,087 of whom were under treatment in Government hospitals on June 1, 1922.

Greater Domestic Program

This year—after five years of constructive effort during the war and after the armistice—brings with it a greater responsibility for domestic service to the American Red Cross. The budget for foreign operations, however, totals $3,404,000, but of this amount $1,834,000 is for medical relief and hospital supplies for Russia, which is a part of the gift made by the American Red Cross in 1921 to the Russian famine relief work of the American Relief Administration program. The child health service in Europe continues, moreover, and $534,000 is appropriated for this work undertaken in 1920. Other items in the stringently diminished foreign program include $200,000 to support the League of Red Cross Societies, $22,000 for nurses' training schools instituted by the Red Cross abroad, and $600,000 for liquidation of the general Red Cross foreign relief program.

Prepared for Emergencies

For disaster relief the Red Cross has set aside $750,000, and for emergencies in Chapter work $500,000 to be available for domestic, insular and foreign demands. This is more than $305,000 above last year's expenditures. For service and assistance to the 3,200 chapters and their branches $1,233,000 is provided by the National organization.

Other budget items of importance in the domestic program include $200,000 for assistance to other organizations and education institutions for training Red Cross nurses and workers; $190,000 for Roll Call assistance furnished to chapters; $100,000 for unforeseen contingencies.

Of the total budget less than $500,000 is allotted for management in the National organization. No cash estimate, of course, is possible to weigh the value of the service by volunteers in the chapters.

URGED WOMEN BE ON SCHOOL BOARD

Representatives on Text Book Commission and Board Regents Asked.

(By the Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 17.—Women representatives upon both the board of regents of the state university and that state school text commission were recommended in resolutions adopted by the university women graduates of the state when the state organization of the American Association of University Women met this week in Oklahoma City. Mrs. George M. Ransom of Tulsa, president of the Oklahoma division of the association, presided at a meeting following a banquet.

Representatives and members from branches in nine Oklahoma cities besides the state capital were present at the meeting. The branches are located in the following cities: Tulsa, Bartlesville, Sapulpa, Okmulgee, Muskogee, McAlester, Ardmore, Chickasha and Norman.

In a telegram received while the meeting was in progress Mrs. Ada Comstock, national president, said that the organization which has recently affiliated with the international organization which has branches in fifteen nations. She stated that the membership in the United States numbers more than 80,000. She stated that the purpose of the organization is to centralize the forward effort of university women of all nations, to promote international understanding, and to help young women to higher education.

It was announced at the meeting that the Oklahoma City branch is supporting three local young women at Oklahoma City college.

As a part of the internal policy of the Oklahoma division of the national organization resolutions were adopted at the meeting asking that an Oklahoma woman be named director of the southwestern division of the national association, to succeed the St. Louis woman who now holds that position.

Mrs. Comstock expressed the hope, in her telegram, that the Oklahoma division would set a pace for speedy organization and aggressive action for all other state organizations.

In support of the suggestion that a woman be named on the board of regents of the state university President Ransom said at the meeting that since there are seven members of the board and more than one-seventh of the students and alumni of the university are women the request for one woman representative on the board was even less than a request for proportional representation.

Relative to the resolution asking that a woman be appointed to the text book commission, Mrs. Ransom pointed out that it has always been primarily woman's function to teach and that she reserves a hearing as to what she shall teach and the tools with which she is to work.

Officers of the state organization are: Mrs. Ransom, president; Mrs. Eva Hirdley Green of Tulsa, Secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W. H. England of Ponca City, first vice president; Dr. Alma J. Neill of Norman, second vice president; Miss Jane Hill Miller of Chickasha, auditor.

We expect a visit from the high school inspector soon. We are confident that our school meets all requirements for two years accredited work. Mr. Floyd, our efficient county superintendent is doing all he can for the small schools. The rural people should give him their hearty support in the work he is attempting for the rural schools. BLUE EYES.

Under the laws of Mexico it is twice as much an offense to mutilate the face of a woman as that of a man. The idea of this is a very sensible one, being based on fact that to a woman her beauty is a great asset; to a man it is therefore a very serious personal injury.

Alcohol made from sugar is one of the staple products of Cuba.

Fore!-!-!

They are two kinds of golf players that the typer in these lines would admire to see some laws made to regulate. One of 'em is dangerous and makes the hole course about as safe as a battle field on the advance! Turks and the Armenians with yourself in the role of the Armenians; the other makes a honest, hard workin' guy that plays fer the love of the sport so all-fired mad it takes him a week to sit back on his home after secin' one of 'em in action.

The first one referred to is the speed demon. The typer in these lines has saw guys play this summer that has seemed to have the impression that they is some kind of a time handicap on this game and that they is a lovin' cup or a medal or some kind of wad at the end of the hole for the first guy to make the course, irrespective of his feller players, in the shortest time.

They ought to wear a track suit so as to give 'em a finer stride on the turf. You go out with some guy that has the same feelin' as the game as yourself and both of you tee off like human bombs and play through a hole or 2, and about the time you get a mean lay that takes a mighty particular mashie and are puttin' everything you've got in the stroke tryin' to save a penalty you hear a whiz that sounds like a gas alarm at a trainin' camp and a ball whizzes so close to your head that you wish you had your tin hat. Naturally a guy will break for cover in a time like that and you wont morden get there 'til the speed demon comes in sight a shortie to his caddy to get the grass pulled out from around the ball so as not to lose no time on the next shot. He does the hole in about the time you and your human friend does the first 5, but the typer in these lines ain't heard of any medal bein' struck for golf speed yet.

The other guy that the typer in these lines has in mind is the guy that is willin' to let his drive count a hole stroke but wants the privilege of lettin' all of his mid field slices, tops etc. be tallied at the rate of about 1-4 per each so as he can get in the first hole not morden 1 over par. With the plan of countin' he can turn in a pretty fair lookin' card at the end of the round. The typer in these lines is inventin' a patent with a numberin' machine, attached on it that can be strapped on guys in this kind so as they can be checked up on and then they can be classified according to the score they actually makes.

PRESENT SYSTEM SCHOOLS PLAYED

Bargain Counter Method of Education Scorned by School Leads.

(By the Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 18.—The present day bargain counter theory of education—the theory that education should be made attractive to the students—has resulted in a heterogeneous mass of unrelated subjects, Prof. Herbert S. Hadley of the University of Colorado, told members of the Missouri State Teachers' association here today.

Professor Hadley declared "there is something seriously wrong with the present educational system" and added that he believed the trouble is due to a system of "educational coddling" by which students decided on their courses of study instead of being required to take what the experience of centuries has shown to be the most valuable for training, disciplining and developing the mind.

"The classics have been minimized in importance," he said, "and mathematics, history and philosophy are following in their wake. College education has come to be regarded by many as a social experience. We should go back to fundamentals."

OKEMAH SHOWING GREAT FORM NOW

Football Team Easily Wins Over Wetumka Invaders in Monday Game.

OKEMAH, Nov. 21. (Special)—Okemah high school was in great form Monday afternoon, and won away with the big end of a 45 to 6 score over Wetumka high school in one of the best played football games of the season. The game was to have been played at Wetumka but was postponed until Monday of this week.

Coach Vernon, of Ada and a former student of the college, there was well opened with the good showing of his team, following a crushing defeat at the hands of Wetumka two years ago. The boys had to work that swept the Wetumkans off their feet and the game was easy for the locals. At the new back field went in to Okemah in the last period and managed to score a touchdown.

To begin the game, Okemah laid a heavy offensive, of line plunges, cross backs and off-tackle plays. Score and time were worked with success and the ball was steadily advanced down the field. On the other hand, Wetumka was content to hold the ball for seven and a half minutes and did not advance.

Up to the last half, the local depended on close formation plays to gain. In the last part of the third quarter and in the fourth quarter, the boys played an aerial attack which was successful, completing 10 out of 15 attempts for a gain of 249 yards.

Following a run through the Okemah line, Wetumka attempted an aerial attack, which was easily repulsed. One of 14 passes attempted they had in intercepting. The locals were in their best form at halftime.

McMahon, Stephens, Brown, Johnson and Nelson were the star players for Okemah. Rice of Wetumka was injured. Wolf of Okemah was injured. This makes five victories, one defeat and one tie for Okemah this season.

HIGHWAYS AIDED BY FEDERAL AID

Ten Thousand Miles Are Completed During Last Year, Reports Say.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Ten thousand miles of Federal-aid highways were completed in the last fiscal year, bringing the total mileage to 19,368, says an announcement of the Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Agriculture. The year's work constituted a new record.

Texas leads in miles of completed Federal-aid roads with 1,333 miles, while Minnesota is second with 1,416. Texas also is first in mileage under construction with 1,408 miles, and Nebraska is second with 976 miles. Iowa is third with 955.

Texas and New York receive the largest allotments of Federal aid, which is distributed on the basis of population and mileage of state highways.

Aside from the federal-state highway work, the Bureau of Roads has completed one thousand three hundred and fifty-two miles of road in the national forests, and there are under construction 617 miles, the whole to open up regions of great natural beauty.

Based on available data, Bureau officials state, the sum to be spent this year on highways will total $742,000,000. The figure includes Federal-aid roads and projects built in addition by the States and similar municipal units without the aid of federal funds.

Highway building over the country is to be given additional impetus, as the result of assistance offered by the Federal Government. The Bureau of Public Roads has addressed a memorandum to the highway departments of all the state governments offering them thousands of tons of explosives which were left over from the war. These are being distributed in large quantities and road builders and highway engineers are urged to write to Washington, to obtain allotments of the explosives, building for these both in construction and maintenance.

Col. Sidney Sages of Ardmore, pioneer editor and good-roads booster, was in the city today on business.

Rev. R. E. Brothers, pastor of the Ashbury Methodist church, was appointed to the pastorate at Yeager by the recent session of conference. He and his family left today for their new field of work.

Shrine Ring Facts

The Ada News will appropriate this column to the use of candidates for the Shrine Ring for their announcements or any information leading to their qualifications.

H. B. Roach, Esq., Ada, Okla.
Dear Sir and Brother:
I received this a.m., your esteemed communication of the 11th inst., and beg to advise you that I have carefully read and studied same with no small degree of interest, hoping that I might be able to locate the hidden key to the fact that you were writing more in fun than in earnest. Surely, you do not mean all that you said in that letter. It is difficult for the writer, being a Master Mason, to believe that one M. M. could frame such a vicious epistle to another M. M. Therefore, giving you the benefit of the doubt, the most that I can charge you with up to this point is that you have unwittingly allowed your Irish to dictate your English—a very poor policy, indeed.

I have also applied the strictest scientific rules of psychoanalysis, a more than careful study of the picture of your physiognomy as presented in the striking likeness of your good self which you were good enough to send along to keep company with your letter. It is, indeed, a most wonderful picture, I must say; and I want to assure you that my verdict in this case is mixed with both "guilty" and "not guilty."

Basing my verdict upon the exhaustive examination which I have made of this photo print or cut, I cannot believe that an open charge of criminal intent could be established by a careful measurement of the cranium. Nor do I believe that the same measurements would reveal sufficient equilibrium of mentality to enable you to mingle with equal splendor, among the tallest of men. There is nothing revealed by this psychoanalytic inquiry to arouse any fear of delectable viciousness. At least, not sufficient to frighten the laity less endowed with powerful appearance and verbose claims.

Therefore, my report on the picture would simply be that you are quite a bit inclined to be handsome, corpulent of stature, well bred and reared, lordly and domineering of manners among those who will permit you to be—but NOT very dangerous.

Your style of writing is probative of that fact that you have not been narrow or circumscribed, but, rather generous and general, in your range of reading matter. Which, I hasten to assert, is a strong point in your favor. The fact you speak of the "Mighty Alexander" and "Napoleon," convinces the writer that you have read some Medieval history. Had you said anything about "When Caesar took an Eastward ride and led the Gauls to Rome," I might have given you a little higher grade on your composition. Your testimony as to what "David said to Goliath," demonstrates that you have either read the Holy Writ—attended church and heard some minister mention them; while your narrative of "Aesop's Fable of the Ass donning the Lion's skin," and your charitable reference to myself as "a Roman Gladiator," is proof conclusive that you have done full justice to mythology. However, your puny attempt at soaring from sublime to ridiculous—up, and back to ridiculous again—is proof that you have not thoroughly mastered the art of loose conversation in dispensing your rhetoric. This defect, however, may be easily cured and overcome by devoted and untiring application of some cheap correspondence course upon this branch of learning.

The second paragraph of your beautiful letter, at once, brought to my recollection the speech delivered by the young and inexperienced Indian who appeared before a Congressional Committee seeking Governmental aid in protecting their livestock from the depredations of wild beasts. He said:

"Mr. Chairman, The lion is the most ferocious animal that prowls and runs at large in India. He sneaks from his lurking place at the hour of midnight, when all nature is locked in the arms of morpheus; and, ere the portals of the East and unbound, or bright Phoebus arises in his golden majesty, whole hordes of pigs are destroyed."

His speech brought round after round of applause. So would your letter, if read in lettered circles. Which, albeit, is another mark in your favor, because it is positive evidence of the fact that you are well endowed with native ability, but, being a self-made man, most of your thoughts are born feet foremost.

Now, Brother Roach, before you judge me harshly, I want you to go back over the line of events. Read my first letter to you; then your reply dated 11-11-22 to me; then re-read this letter, and judge for yourself which is the most scathing and un-warranted.

I simply laid down a clean-cut proposition in my first letter, in as gentlemanly manner as I could, that you be good enough to get out of the race for the Shrine Class Ring, because I knew then, and know now, that you do not have the slightest chance of being awarded this distinctive honor.

And, now that you have made it known to me that you, too, had been a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the office of Corporation Commissioner, my feeling toward you has taken the form of compassion; and it is now with your own interests at heart that I pursue my previous request and, if I must, demand that you do get out of this race.

Personally, I do not think that you are using fair tactics in using your old campaign pictures with a little strip of paper with typewritten matter pasted over the original printing. Further, the fact that you are trying to swing the Labor Union vote and influence by carefully tearing off a corner of the pasted-in paper so as to expose the Union Label on the original printing, is quite enough to cause any and all high-minded and self-respecting Nobles and Novices to diametrically oppose your candidacy.

I shall take good care of the picture which you sent to me, and, rest well assured, I shall show you up to the entire Nobility in such a manner and with such forces and effect that you will always rue the moment when you thought of such a clever scheme, as mentioned in the last above paragraph. Shrine Masons are not, as a rule, simple-minded and susceptible to the cunning and art of an ordinary wop-out politician. They head beneath the surface. I shall also have with me your letter to show how quick you are to jump at conclusions. Why, bless your soul, you positively are incapable of grasping the meaning of an ordinary proposition—as your letter will prove.

As for myself, it is my practice to try to be gentlemanly and courteous in addressing any person, no matter what his rank and station in life may be, and brevity is my most cherished pet motto.

It is not good form to write a letter or punish a child when you are enraged with anger—better wait until you cool off. Liquor and gasoline will NOT mix; and courtesy and slow-driving are the two best investments. Better write it down, or file this letter where it may be come-at-able for ready-reference. It may be worth something to you in the conduct of your business relations with your customers.

Of course, I admit that I was unsuccessful in my ambitious lunge for the office of Corporation Commissioner, still, I cannot understand how you can get any satisfaction out of flaunting this fact in my face. It is bad enough that your scurrilous charge or reminder is true—without adding insult to injury. Here again, you expose your lack of business tact. Had you expressed your sympathy and regret that I was defeated, and told me that you had, not only voted, but worked for my election, then, I might have felt more inclined to tolerate your staying in the race for the Shrine Class Ring. But you didn't—and, so, I won't.

I really had understood that you would be out of the race, and, so, I was directing my entire attention to a cipher in the sum of humanity at Allen, Okla. John E. Butcher, as you will note by reference to the accompanying circular letter which I am mailing to each and every Noble in the jurisdiction of Bedouin and India Temples. Now, I suppose I shall have to go to the expense and trouble of preparing another letter in which I shall pay my respects to you as well as Butcher. That is, unless you are now willing to accept my version—and withdraw from the race.

Permit me to advise you that I first joined the Shrine at India, and then transferred to Bedouin. This has given me the opportunity to work into the good graces of both jurisdictions, and, for your information, I will state that, what it takes to put my candidate over with—I have it—great crooks and kegs of it.

I have never lost a single candidate—and I want to re-assure you that I do not mean to lose this one.

Really, I rather appreciate your Irish fighting spirit. Like Job's war horse, you smelted the battle afar off. To you, there seems to be something of pride in the perilous hour—

No matter the way in which death may lower, For fame is there to tell who bleeds And Honor's eye on daring deeds. I thank you.

Fraternally yours,
Noble C. E. Guthrie.

Shrine Ring Editor,
Ada News, Ada, Okla.,
Dear Sir:

I learn that various reports are being circulated in your city to the effect that I am withdrawing from the race for the Shrine ring to be awarded November 24, at the Shrine Ceremonial held in Ada.

I wish to flatly deny that report and wager any camp of contenders for the Shrine ring to the amount of $100 or more that I bring back that ring to rest in the peaceful, village of Allen.

I also learn that one E. G. Guthrie is the instigator of these rumors and that he had published an article in your paper to the effect that I had withdrawn from the race. I wonder at the nerve of this man now. I was naturally surprised when he announced his support of any candidate which is in my estimation sure sign that his candidate is doomed for sudden defeat.

The Allen crowd is headed for Ada on the 24th and positively will not return without that ring safely nestling in the Allen camp. The Allen crowd never fails to carry their fight through. We fling down the gauntlet and show fight now.

Women Support McCauley for Ring
We, the wives of the Shriners of the Pontotoc Shrine Club do hereby pledge ourselves to support, unreservedly, Mr. McCauley, the ring candidate.

We, having been watching with much interest the competition shown by the several other ring candidates, and have realized many, many times and instances wherein we could have been of material benefit to them through our influence, especially to the other ring candidate of our city, have refrained from exerting any effort whatsoever to assist him—and you wonder why? Not once has the Hon. Mr. Roach approached us or solicited our support.

At the meeting of the ladies committees yesterday afternoon, Mr. McCauley, together with his staunch supporters and campaign managers, availed himself of the opportunity to speak to us in his behalf—explaining that he realized how much our influence meant, and asked us to assist him in every way to get the ring. If we had no other proof of Mr. McCauley's popularity as a citizen and a banker than that his campaign managers were the very best citizens of the town, we would feel justified in giving him our support.

And, to, we do not know at what time it will be necessary for us to ask Mr. McCauley for a loan. We know when we enter the M. & P. National Bank that we are assured of a warm welcome, and our financial troubles, at least, will be alleviated, as far as it is in Mr. McCauley's power to do so. "Friendship begets friendship." We have not read Mr. McCauley's platform, but feel sure it will be a great deal more elevating than some of the other candidates and one that a lady will feel free to discuss with her friends—and on that big day, November 24th, we will exert our every effort to influence the visiting shriners to vote for the cleanest, handsomest man in the race. In other words the "Sir Galahad of the Race."

Mr. McCauley further intimated that he would use his influence with the Nobility to have added to the ceremonial the fourth section for the benefit of the ladies. If he accomplishes this, the ladies, in the future, will have a direct vote for the ring candidate, eliminating the usual amount of persuasion, and the use of our feminine charms to get the men's vote.

COMMITTEE.
